

New Beginning Educational Consulting LLC was there for us in a big way. I had lost all of my hope. I knew that there was something wrong with my daughter since she has been a toddler! The school kept ignoring me, and the report cards were great. I never understood that as she struggles to read a paragraph out loud! Amy not only pinpointed the exact nature of my daughter's disability, she also got her eligible to receive extra help from the school.

I was literally hopeless and frustrated until I met Amy. I would go to those PPT meetings, and felt like nobody was even listening to me. Amy not only proved to be a great listener, she is a smooth negotiator. We had 9 items on our list that we wanted from the school, and we got them all. I am so very grateful. Thank you Amy! I would never want to attend a PPT without her!
